

ENCOURAGING TO FRIENDS OF FREE COINAGE.

EDITOR Journal:—The result of to-day's vote in the United States House of Representatives is, in my opinion, exceedingly encouraging to the friends of free coinage. It is true that the House rejected free coinage by a vote of 141 to 110, but doubtless some who voted with the majority felt themselves bound by the Republican caucus action to support the bill which passed. The bill will now go to the Senate, and if that body shall change it so as to provide for free coinage it will return to the House, and the question will be whether the House will agree to the Senate substitute. Upon that question there has been, and probably will be, no caucus action to embarrass members, and free coinage may win the day. The roll call demonstrated that it needs only a change of nine votes to pass free coinage in the House, and in the meantime that number of gentlemen may hear from their constituents in a way that will induce them to abandon the mono-metallic cause. Certainly the debates and vote show that the whole country is becoming aroused on the subject, and the more extended and active the agitation the more certain will be the ultimate triumph of bi-metalism.

SILVER.

Last week was a lively one for the silver men.

We found many staunch friends in the East who poured hot shot into the gold bug camp for us. The bill passed was not just what we wanted, and Bartine our Representative who is for free coinage or nothing, voted against it. Silver is strong in the Senate and it is the general opinion that the bill will come back amended so as to be a free coinage bill and that it will pass.

Of course Sherman is working and speaking against the white metal. He is still serving the men who bought him in '73.

Stewart and Sherman.

Stewart of Nevada is making John Sherman wear a hair shirt during the discussion of the silver question. Stewart is the most energetic and persistent man in public life to-day. There is no exhausting him, and he has a hide as impervious to denunciations as rubber is to water. Moreover, he is in the right on the subject of silver, and he will hang on to Sherman and badger him and wear out his patience and strength, and land him in a sick bed with nervous prostration, cold and self-poisoned as he is. Stewart is a wonderful old man. In years he is already a patriarch, but in vitality and spirits he is a whole public school at recess time. He is a bonanza to the friends of silver.—Post.

Prince Albert Victor, second hopeful of the Prince of Wales, when at school was often hard up and would write his grandmother for funds. The old lady would sometimes send money, but oftener a letter of good advice. These letters the Prince would read and put up at auction among his classmates, knocking them down to the highest bidder for the Queen's autograph. In this way the young rascal always got money out of his granny.—Alta.

The gold bugs have been chewing on Jones' silver speech ever since it was delivered and found no flaw in it. All the argument the goldites ever made is that silver remonetization will drive the gold out of the country; a state of affairs which did not exist before the demonetization of silver.

Stewart's bill to reimburse numerous persons who expend money and furnished supplies in repelling Indian invasions and hostilities in the State of Nevada has been reported favorably by Mitchell, from the Committee on Claims. The amount appropriated is over $20,000.
